Personal protective equipment kits

Personal protective equipment kits are available for residents returning to inspect their property when it is safe to do so. The kits include:

- Disposable coveralls
- A disposable P2 mask
- Sturdy gloves
- A plastic garbage bag to dispose of the used protective equipment
- Information sheets about returning home safely and using your personal protective kit

Extra P2 masks will be available to go with each kit as it is likely more than one mask will be needed.

The kits are to be used strictly for fossicking for keepsakes, they are not for asbestos removal or for asbestos clean-up.

Kits will be available at community meetings and from the Bushfire Recovery Centre.

Waste – your questions answered

We appreciate residents are eager to start removing debris from their properties; however, we are restricted in what can be accepted at our waste sites.

Consultation is taking place with expert waste removal agencies - including Bushfire Recovery Victoria, Grocon and Environment Protection Authority - and residents will be updated as soon as arrangements are confirmed.

A solution for specific waste items, such as fencing, are being worked on with Bushfire Recovery Victoria.

Why our waste sites are currently unable to receive bushfire debris:

- Bairnsdale Landfill's new cell is not ready for rubble – a layer of domestic waste is needed to protect the liner from being pierced and potential leaks.
- No other site in the shire has the correct license for receiving bushfire debris. Two more sites are being assessed as possible disposal locations.
- The impending increase in waste at the Bairnsdale Landfill has the potential to put council's day-to-day waste management and collection services at risk.

City of Melbourne visit

Looking after your dams

With rain and thunderstorms predicted this weekend, farmers are being encouraged to consider strategies to prevent organic pollution from entering farm dams.

Pasture covers have been left at critically low levels due to the recent bushfires and drought, making it easy for dung and other organic materials find its way into dams.

Tips to prevent organic pollution:

- Remove organic material from water ASAP by skimming the surface of the water
- Improve the palatability of the water by aeration and/or chemical treatments
- Where possible, implement sediment control measures with sediment fences or barriers
- Prioritise water storages and plan for contingencies should water become unavailable
- Maintain an adequate vegetative cover around the dam or protect with netting, corrugated iron or earth banks

Farm fencing

Note: funding for these programs cannot be provided retrospectively.

The Victorian Government will help upgrade fences to be more fire resistant for landholders repairing damaged or destroyed fences between private land and National Parks, State Parks and State forests.

Farmers can upgrade fences with concrete posts and be better able to exclude pests such as wild dogs. The government will pay half the cost of these fence upgrades up to $5 per metre.

An assessment of the property and the fence damage must be completed before works are undertaken or payments can be made, and landholders will continue to pay labour costs and half the cost of materials. You can call DELWP on 136 186 weekdays from 8am to 6pm.

Farm fencing burnt by bushfire: Your insurer or organisations such as BlazeAid can help cover the cost of these fences either financially or with in-kind help. Information on BlazeAid can be found on BlazeAid's Facebook page or their website, blazeaid.com.au
