Agricultural properties

Recovery grants of up to $75,000 per farmer are available to assist with immediate recovery activities needed to rebuild primary production enterprises. Grants can be accessed to help primary producers who have lost most of their farm business assets, and help remote primary producers with transport costs.

To register your interest in one of these grants, visit ruralfinance.com.au or call 1800 260 425.

Looking after your dams

With rain and thunderstorms predicted this weekend, farmers are being encouraged to consider strategies to prevent organic pollution from entering farm dams.

Pasture covers have been left at critically low levels due to the recent bushfires and drought, making it easy for dung and other organic materials find its way into dams.

Tips to prevent organic pollution:

- Remove organic material from water ASAP by skimming the surface of the water
- Improve the palatability of the water by aeration and/or chemical treatments
- Where possible, implement sediment control measures with sediment fences or barriers
- Prioritise water storages and plan for contingencies should water become unavailable
- Maintain an adequate vegetative cover around the dam or protect with netting, corrugated iron or earth banks

Farm fencing

Note: funding for these programs cannot be provided retrospectively.

The Victorian Government will help upgrade fences to be more fire resistant for landholders repairing damaged or destroyed fences between private land and National Parks, State Parks and State forests.

Farmers can upgrade fences with concrete posts and be better able to exclude pests such as wild dogs. The government will pay half the cost of these fence upgrades up to $5 per metre.

An assessment of the property and the fence damage must be completed before works are undertaken or payments can be made, and landholders will continue to pay labour costs and half the cost of materials. Call DELWP on 136 186 weekdays from 8am to 6pm.

Farm fencing burnt by bushfire: Your insurer or organisations such as BlazeAid can help cover the cost of these fences either financially or with in-kind help. Information on BlazeAid can be found on

Vinnies happy to help

Mayor Cr John White headed into the Rivera Plaza last Thursday to catch up with Bairnsdale local and

"Our connection with the East Gippsland Shire Council first happened through drought relief assistance," Ms McMahon explained.

"One day there was a knock on our door and a lovely lady called Blanche Evans came in, she was the emergency relief coordinator at council. She came in and we informed her about all the drought assistance we were doing. Then when the bushfires first hit, we had a phone call from Blanche inviting us to come down to the evacuation centre which re-established the connection."

The Mayor voiced his appreciation for the work Cath and her team continue to execute on the ground for the community and the pair were in strong agreement about the importance of not letting anyone fall through the cracks.

During the fires, Vinnies was also able to assist the many displaced families at the evacuation centre, handing out vouchers to the local cinema etc.
